

Dear Partner,

we are sending this important notice about the University of Verona (Italy).

According the Regional note (Veneto Region), teaching activities (lessons, graduation exams and meetings with teachers) will be suspended, along with all conferences and events scheduled starting from Monday 24 February until Saturday 29 February 2020, until further notice.

For precautionary reasons, the library, study rooms and offices will also be closed to public. The operations of the University offices will continue as usual and administrative services that do not involve public contact will be provided.

Your students (if any) currently studying at the University of Verona have already been informed.

We will keep you informed in the next days.

Kind regards and thank you for your attention.
