File no.: 605-03/23-01/01
Record no.: 251-61-01/139-23-03
Zagreb, September 5th, 2023

Pursuant to Article 31 of the Statute of the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, the Faculty's Dean hereby adopts the below

DECISION

Dean Prof. Marko Samardžija on participation in Croatian language classes and passing the final exam up to level B2

I

Starting from the academic year 2023/2024. Students of the University's integrated undergraduate and graduate study of veterinary medicine in English are not obliged to take Croatian language classes. The Faculty of Veterinary Medicine allows and finances students who wish to do so to listen to and take Croatian language up to the B2 level, which they must have achieved by the time they enroll in the 6th semester.

II

All students who started studying the Croatian language before this decision must pass the level they started. It is not allowed to quit the started level lessons without valid excuses and reasons (the validation of excuses and reasons for quitting is determined by the deanship). Otherwise, they will have to pay back the fees for that language level to the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine.

III

Students who started studying the Croatian language before this decision must fulfill all obligations resulting from it (attending lectures, seminars, exercises, and passing the level final exam) that the school has set for the Croatian language, otherwise, they must repay the tuition for the language level not passed on time.

The refund is regulated by the decision of the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, by direct payment to the Faculty's account or by crediting to the annual tuition fee when enrolling in the higher academic year (until the diploma) or by payment to the account before the defense of the diploma thesis.

IV

This decision is valid from the day of its adoption.

Dean

Prof. Marko Samardžija, PhD, DVM
